SUBJECT: GENERAL— REDSOX/AEQUOR/Operational

SPECIFIC— Transmittal of AECAMBISTA 2 Statement on Knowledgeability

Attached is a translation of AECAMBISTA 2's own statement of the extent of knowledgeability of members of AECAMBISTA 1 in the three principle European countries where they are located. It is impossible to determine the accuracy of many of his statements without debriefing the principal persons involved. Obviously when he makes the statement that someone "thinks" such and such about the action he is engaging in a field usually reserved for mind-readers.

Belgium

AECAMBISTA 11 knows that people are sent to Belorussia and who they are. Primarily his knowledge concerns their tasks, e.g. to obtain legal documents, find jobs, visit the important cities, ascertain the frame of mind of the population, and report basic political, economic and military data whenever possible. AECAMBISTA 11 also knows that AECAMPOSANTO 4 was killed. AECAMBISTA 13 and 15 know who the team members are, that contact with them exists, and believe that they are all alive and healthy. They do not know any further details and do not ask any questions since this was the agreement at the beginning of the job.

None of the above three know the whereabouts (other than in the BSSR) of the team.

Identity 1 knows that his friend AECAMPOSANTO 6 is in Belorussia. He thinks that AECAMPOSANTO 6 must be somewhere near his home town because AECAMPOSANTO 6 promised to get in touch with Identity 1's parents. Identity 1 does not know anything definite beyond this.

Identity 2 and Identity 3 presume that AECAMPOSANTO 6 is in Belorussia. They also know that recruitment is underway for another operation. They surmised this from the frequent trips made by their friends but have not been told anything definite.

Identity 4 knows that a previous operation took place since he was asked to take part in it. However, he only agreed to Poland and was not included. Whether he knows the composition of the team is not known.

Identity 5 may know about AECAMPOSANTO 1 because he heard the latter's confession before his departure. It is difficult to say what he thinks about AECAMPOSANTO 6 whom he knew, but one can conclude from his utterances that he assumes AECAMPOSANTO 6 was called upon to do important work for AECAMBISTA 1. He does not ask for details. At the very beginning he asked me if AECAMPOSANTO 6 was satisfied with his work. Since he agreed to have the bank account opened in his name, Identity 5 knows that we have a source of funds. I believe that he thinks the source of our funds is the American Committee. He does not know about the existence of any other organization.

Great Britain

Identity 6 knows that the agencies of the AECAMBISTA 1 were engaged in organizing special schools. He participated in the survey in England and it must be assumed that he knows of the collaboration between the Americans and AECAMBISTA 1. Identity 6 also knows that AECAMPOSANTO 1 was sent to Belorussia since he was supposed to receive letters at the address given as a letter drop. Identity 6 is also quite close to AECAMBISTA 4 and it is difficult to say what the latter might have told him before his departure.

There are also many people in England, particularly Bradford and Manchester, who came to Munich to participate in the assessment program. These people undoubtedly know the nature of our collaboration.

Primes

Identify 7 probably knows about the operation. He was a close friend of ARCAMPOSANTO 8 and it can only be assumed that he knows ARCAMPOSANTO 8 went or will go on a mission.

Five or six men who were approached for recruitment know about the nature of our collaboration. They have never been told any of the details and it is difficult to say what they suspect.

NOTE:

Everyone who came before the assessment commission thinks that those who did not return are either on a mission to Belorussia or are being prepared to go there. On our side, everyone who filled out long questionnaires (HQ's) was told about preparation for immediate action, but none of them were given any reason to think that such action had already been started.

No one has been told about the subordination of the newspaper. The majority thinks that it is subordinated by the Vatican and the others think the AMONKIB provides the funds.
